

Citi® Corporate Card

Life is simpler when charges are made on the most widely accepted and globally consistent Travel and Entertainment Card in the world

At Citi, we know managing and monitoring the details of your organization’s travel and entertainment (T&E) expenses is just as important as providing your employees with an easy-to-use, globally accepted Corporate Card. Thankfully, the Citi® Corporate Card does both.

As the global issuer with the largest self-owned and operated Commercial Card platform, Citi is able to provide you with the most widely accepted card supported by globally consistent program management tools and functionality for a truly seamless program, whether that program needs to support one or 100 countries.

The Citi Difference

With the largest number of self-owned and operated local currency markets of any issuer, a Citi Commercial program can uniquely offer:

- Unrivalled card acceptance with the greatest global coverage in the industry
- Consistent products, servicing, and program management tools across the largest number of countries globally

- Consolidated global data from over 100 markets for true, global reporting and complete spend visibility

The Citi Commitment

From implementation to on-going client and cardholder management, Citi provides skilled experts at each step who work with you to create an optimized program and seamless global experience.

Our uniform processes and services across markets streamline program implementation and rollout. And our global contracts, consistent tools, and common products simplify multi-market programs, help instigate employee adoption, and work to alleviate growth pains associated with program expansion.

Benefits at a Glance

- Largest self-owned, global network with the greatest global acceptance
- Comprehensive visibility into spend with all global card transaction data stored in one consolidated data repository, accessible via files or web-friendly reporting
- Leading local-currency issuer, supporting over 65 local currency countries and 47 currencies
- Globally consistent data and product capabilities as a result of investment in a common technology platform at the base of all products and tools
- Award-winning client support through 24x7 customer service centers servicing 25 languages
